Editorial Comment

Good Start . . .

Mighty oaks from little acorns grow. In only a week of school we have found scattered across the campus omens that point toward a successful 1964-65 school year.

This quarter's registration, despite some tangles in scheduling, moved more smoothly than it has in past years. The Textbook Library, long a cause of frustration, operated quickly and efficiently. (Misery is not the Textbook Library anymore.)

The Student Senate is off to a good start not only with the ideas it plans to develop this year but with the student interest shown at the first meeting Thursday. Brochures handed out during registration inviting students to the meetings were effective to the point that the opening session had to be held in the University Ballroom instead of the Senate room.

But there is something more that makes us think that this will be a good year. There seems to be an air, an undefinable quality, of enthusiasm. Dances, meetings, college hangouts (on and off campus) have been crowded-filled with students who seem to be glad that they are a part of Eastern.

The year is off to a fast start with plenty to look forward to in the near future. The football season begins next week, Parents' Weekend and Homecoming are scheduled earlier than usual. The new foreign movie program and several good concerts and lectures already set should keep the spirit alive.

Most important of all we feel an I-am-at-Eastern-because-I-want-to-be-here attitude.

FOURTEEN CANDIDATES RUN . . .

Queen, Attendant Election Today

Students will go to the polls today and elect the 1964 Homecoming Queen and her Freshman Attendant.

Seven candidates are running for the top post.

Judy Bartlett, sophomore speech correction major from Mattoon, is the candidate of the Independent Commuters. A former Miss Mattoon and Miss Coles County, she is a member of Sigma Alpha Eta, honorary speech fraternity.

KAPPA DELTA's candidate, Pat Burch, is a senior physical education major from Granville. Besides being the president of Kappa Delta, she is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, Women's Physical Education Club and the Wesley Foundation. Pat Mandel, Sigma Sigma Sigma's candidate and a senior art major from Deerfield, is Sentenal and Charity Chairman of her sorority. She is also a resident assistant at Pemberton Hall, a member of the Student Education Association and Kappa Pi, honorary art fraternity.

A senior physical education major from Martinsville, Janis Wendlandt, is Alpha Gamma Delta's candidate. Also minoring in German and health education, she is her sorority's Social and Standards Chairman, a Student Senator, a member of the Andrews Hall house council, the W.A.A., the German Club and the Modern Dance Club.

Students, Alums Pack Homecoming Events

Sig Pi Wins House Decoration Honors; TKE Wins 'All Events'

Alumni and students packed concerts, dances, play presentations and the football game Friday and Saturday for Eastern's golden Homecoming celebration.

A standing-room-only crowd listened to singer Julie London's Friday evening concert in Lantz Gymnasium while all but a few seats were filled for the opening night performance of "Take Her, She's Mine" in the Fine Arts Theatre.

APPROXIMATELY 5,000 were on hand to view the Eastern-Illinois State football game Saturday afternoon. All bleacher seats were filled including those at the north and south ends of Lincoln Field while late-comers sat on the ground or stood around the field.

At the morning parade, 87 units took 45 minutes to pass a given point. Highlights of the parade were prize-winning floats constructed by Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity and Delta Zeta social sorority; the queen's float; and 12 marching bands, including Eastern's 150-member Marching Band.

PRIZES were awarded in four divisions for house decorations, the contests with the most competition this year, during the Saturday evening dance in Lantz Gym.

A champaign bottle, glasses and cake won Sigma Pi social fraternity the top prize in the top division, Class A.

Coming in second and third in fraternity house decs were Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity.

IN CLASS B, sororities, Sigma Kappa social sorority took home the first place trophy and money. Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority and Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority won second and third respectively in that division.

Lincoln Hall's panther plucking a bird topped other entrants in Class C, University residence halls. A two-part house dec won second place honors for Ford, Welfer, McKinney and Pemberton Halls.

Third place in that division went to Andrew's Hall.

In Class D, off-campus residences, Douglas Residence, a rooming house on Ninth Street, won first place. Gamma Delta took second.

IN FLOAT competition, an orange and black caterpillar entered by the Tekes was judged best of the two floats entered in Class A, fraternities. Phi Sigma Epsilon social fraternity came in second.

In sorority competition, Class B, Delta Zeta's float, "The Sweet Smell of Victory," took top honors. Second place prize went to Alpha Gamma Delta and third to Sigma Kappa.

Lincoln Hall also took first place for floats entered in Class C, residence halls.

The Young Republicans topped the Young Democrats in Class D

for departmental clubs, religious organizations, civic organizations and rooming houses. Third place went to the Newman Club.

Honors for the best comedy float went to Hernandoes.

THE TEKES' first-place float and second-place house dec gave them enough points to win the all-events trophy.

Following the awards, Delta Zeta President Judy Woodruff and Pi Kappa Alpha President Barry Barker announced a new award for Greek scholarship.

Delta Zeta and Pike have arranged to sponsor annual awards to the senior sorority girl and senior fraternity man who have the highest cumulative grade point averages. The awards will be presented each year during the Homecoming weekend.

Tau Kappa Epsilon's Homecoming float, "Dig Up a Winner," won first place in the Class A float competition. TKE also took second place in the house decoration competition.

Pem also participated in Homecoming with the second place house dec of which we were quite proud.

Homecoming is over and the dust is beginning to settle. The chicken-wire and football programs should probably be let lie where they fell, but I can't resist the temptation to make a few comments.

After all concerned had waged a most memorable and commendable campaign, Judy Bartlett emerged victorious to reign over the 1964 Homecoming activities. Those who supported the not-so-fortunate candidates (with one exception) ran and hid their tails.

That exception deserves mention and the weekly "pat on the back" award. Three cheers for the Tri Sigs who scoured campus after the results of the election had been announced and sang the praises of their lovely candidate, Pat Mandel.

Unlike the other groups who dared not show their faces when their fillies lost the race, the Tri Sigs showed that Miss Mandel is still their girl.

And about that snake-dance, kids. Very nice. Your enthusiasm was indeed something to behold. However, when you loose control while rushing through the hallowed halls of Old Main and pick up the neatly tied bundles of the Eastern News, strewing them hither and yon in your unrestrained pre-neolithic worship service—well, when that happens, group, you've gone too far. Watch it.

I noticed that many temples of education and residence were invaded Thursday night by the snake-dancers. The University Union, however, was not so desecrated. Campus police stood guard and defended the one place on campus where they can get a cup of coffe and rest their feet (I could have said flat feet, but I didn't).

Is she or isn't she? Only her obstetrician knows—but the whole campus speculated on whether Julie London is expecting. The obvious answer is that this is nobody's business but her own; however, it was a matter of public interest throughout the Homecoming weekend.

When a "torch" singer who has risen to fame on a sexy voice, sexy body and sexy delivery tries to project that sexiness to an audience, she must be considered hampered, one would think, by pregnancy.

To say the least, the situation is pregnant with irony.

* * *

An orange and black paper steam-roller levelled the Tekes into first place in the fraternity float department Saturday with considerable ease. Not because the competitors were not worthy, but because there were so few of them.

Parade spectators are the losers when, for some reason, only three of our seven fraternities enter class A floats, and the loss was certainly felt.

* * *

The theatre arts department worked long and hard on "Take Her, She's Mine," and the usual laurels are well-earned. The cast (in varying degrees) performed well and the usual laurels are well-earned. The authors of the play could have thrown the thing together in a few hours of concentrated effort so let's save the laurel for the more deserving.

In spite of this weak foundation the play is certainly worthy of viewing. The sets, costuming and the acting of members of the cast are the attention-getters in this one.

Rush On For Homecoming Committees; Theme Announced, Deadlines Firmed

With less than five weeks before Homecoming, activities of the various committees in charge are picking up pace.

The entertainment contracted by the Homecoming committee for the weekend includes a concert performance by the sultry Julie London, concert and dance music provided by Les Elgart and Johnny Renaldo will play at the dance in the University Union Ballroom.

All entries for house decorations for the 50th annual Homecoming must be made at the University Union Lobby Shop Desk by next Friday.

Entries will be accepted between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Thursday. On Friday entries will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The theme for this year's Homecoming is "Golden Edition 1914-1964." A $5 deposit must be attached to each entry blank of the entering group. This deposit will be refundable.

Other activities scheduled for the weekend of celebration include judging of house decorations, Homecoming play, parade, football game and alumni reunions.

There will be four divisions of house decoration.

6 Girls Compete For Top Position In Annual Football Greeter Race

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Union hallway today for the Senate greeter election.

Six candidates are running for the three positions. The candidate who receives the most votes will be the head greeter.

NANCY MEYER, junior elementary education major from Belleville, is the representative of Eastern's newest sorority, Kappa Delta. The treasurer of her sorority, Miss Meyer is an alternate student senator, a member of the Apportionment Board, The Wesley Foundation, the Panhellenic Council, A.C.E. and W.A.A.

Barbara Brockmeier, junior business education major from Edwardsville, is Sigma Kappa's candidate. Miss Brockmeier is the President of the Panhellenic Council, a member of W.A.A. and was last year's Greek Week chairman.

According to Jim Fling, Senate elections chairman, all students enrolled at Eastern are eligible to vote in the election.

The duties of the greeters include officially welcoming the visiting team during the Panther football season and presiding over the pre-game coin flipping cere-

"Andy's Angel" swept to victory in the Friday greeter election as predicted with 443 of the 1,548 votes cast.

MISS WARMA, Delta Zeta social sorority's candidate, drew 310 votes. Second place runner-up was Sigma Sigma Sigma's candidate, Amy McGuffey, with 280 votes.

Miss Livengood, assisted by Warma and McGuffey, will serve as head greeter for the remainder of the 1964 football season.

Johnson, Percy Win Eastern's Mock Election

Lyndon Johnson is an 8-5 choice for President, according to Eastern students and faculty who voted in the mock election Thursday.

Johnson drew 879 votes, more than any of the 12 candidates on the ballot, to Barry Goldwater's 541. On the other hand, Charles Percy, Republican gubernatorial candidate, defeated the incumbent Democrat Otto Kerner by nearly the same margin.

PERCY'S 800-vote total was second to Johnson's, and Kerner's 567 votes were only 26 higher than Goldwater's total. There were 1,450 ballots cast in all, but the Student Senate officials judged 23 ballots to be "spoiled."

Ronald Ludders, President of the Eastern Young Republicans who still maintains that this election gives little indication as to the actual outcome, said, "If this is any indication, it looks like we are going to win some offices."

In the closest of all the contests, the Republicans won their only other office. John Kirby, running for Auditor of Public Accounts, defeated Michael J. Howlett by two votes, 707-705.

FOR LT. GOVERNOR Samuel H. Shapiro defeated the Republican John H. Altorfer by 43 votes, 716-673. Paul Powell, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, defeated Elmer J. Hoffman by 147 votes, 778-631.

For Attorney General the Democrat, William G. Clark, was triumphant over Elroy C. Sandquist Jr., by 170 votes, 789-619.

One of the vote tabulators said that a considerable number of people who voted for Johnson voted GOP on the rest of the ballot. The Democrats had 455 "party line," or "straight ballot" votes compared to the Republican's 400. There were 572 split ballots, over one third of the total number cast.

In Eastern's mock election of 1960 only 1,050 persons voted, while this year 400 more votes were cast. Richard Nixon, incidentally, defeated John Kennedy in that election by 55 votes, 557-482. William Stratton also defeated the new incumbent Otto Kerner.

Carol Wilke, president of the Young Democrats, in a prepared statement said, "We are well pleased with the outcome of the entire election. Taking into consideration that Eastern tends to be a conservative school the Democrats did better than we predicted. Kerner should do better Tuesday (Nov. 3)."

Mayor Woods Says Water Supply Acute

*Charleston, University Officials Deny
Rumor That EIU Might Have To Close*

Although Mayor William G. Woods said Charleston's water supply situation is "getting acute" Thursday, Asa M. Ruyle, assistant to the president, said "The closing of Eastern because of water shortage is nothing but a rumor."

Eastern officials pledged full cooperation with city officials in their efforts to preserve the community's dwindling water supply Friday.

Ruyle said "The University is aware of the gravity of the situation. Steps have been taken to prevent any semblance of water wastage during this critical period."

RUYLE MADE reference to Mayor Woods' announcement as to the seriousness of the water supply, but he denied that the university had considered the possibility of closing.

"No discussion has come up on this," said Ruyle.

Woods estimated, "A 60-day supply of usable water remains in the lake 'if' conservation practices are employed."

THE MAYOR also said that an extremely hard freeze, unless rain fills the lake before cold weather, would further complicate the problem.

Woods offered two possible solutions to the problem: (1) Dredging in the vicinity of the boat house to permit more water to reach the main channel; (2) The use of springs in the river valley area.

YING-CHENG KIANG, assistant professor of geography, has done three surveys on the lake in recent years and concludes that the "real issue is the inadequacy of Lake Charleston."

Kiang claims that the lake has "been shrinking at the rate of three per cent per year because of siltation."

"On Oct. 9, the water was 13 inches below the top of the spillway," according to Kiang. "It is 24½ inches below as of Nov. 5. The actual depth of water in the lake now averages 14 inches, 18 per cent of its original capacity," he said.

Kiang's research has been partially supported by the Illinois State Water Survey and the Research Committee of Eastern Illinois University.

KIANG SAID, "At the present rate we can expect enough water for 35 to 56 days, but not all of this can be considered safe for consumption."

Kiang bases this on the fact that between September and October 1963, the daily water-level drop was estimated at one-fourth of one inch. This compares with a daily drop of two-fifths of one inch during October-November, 1964.

Christy Minstrels To Appear Here In Lantz Gym Concert December 2

by Jim Rinnert

The New Christy Minstrels, one of the most popular folksinging groups in the nation, takes the stage in Lantz Gym at 8 p.m. Dec. 2 for a concert sponsored by the Student Senate.

The Minstrels will open winter quarter as they perform on the first day of classes. Tickets are now on sale at the University Union Desk, $1.50 for students and $1.75 for general admission.

The New Christy Minstrels include seven men and two girls, all with backgrounds in the various forms of entertainment. The group was organized in 1961 by Randy Sparks, who conceived the idea of patterning a modern singing group after a company of pre-Civil War entertainers created by Edwin "Pops" Christy.

The original group rollicked the country with folk songs written by Stephen Foster and his contemporaries. The new Christy Minstrels use the Christy Minstrels as a musical pattern only and have dispensed with the broad jokes, clinched routines and the traditional blackface makeup. Sparks also did away with the melancholy-type ballad which characterizes many folksingers and folksinging groups.

Their music is nothing new—it has been around since 1842, when "Pops" Christy formed the original—but their success is new. The group has sold an aggregate total of two million copies of the last five albums released.

They perform "en masse" and each member of the group has a specialty which is performed as a solo number. They accompany themselves on banjos, guitars and, as Life magazine put it, "with wide-open mouths."

The New Christy Minstrels introduced hootenanny at the White House and on Broadway. The group performed for President Lyndon B. Johnson on Jan. 14, 1964, as dignitaries and statesmen gathered in the White House to pay tribute to President Segni of Italy.

They had performed on Broadway earlier, appearing at the Latin Quarter. Life called them "a new showbusiness sensation," and Variety said, "the wide assortment of instruments and voices give it (the group) all a full-blown force with a captivating drive." Billboard pegged theirs "one of the strongest on-stage acts in the folknik field!"

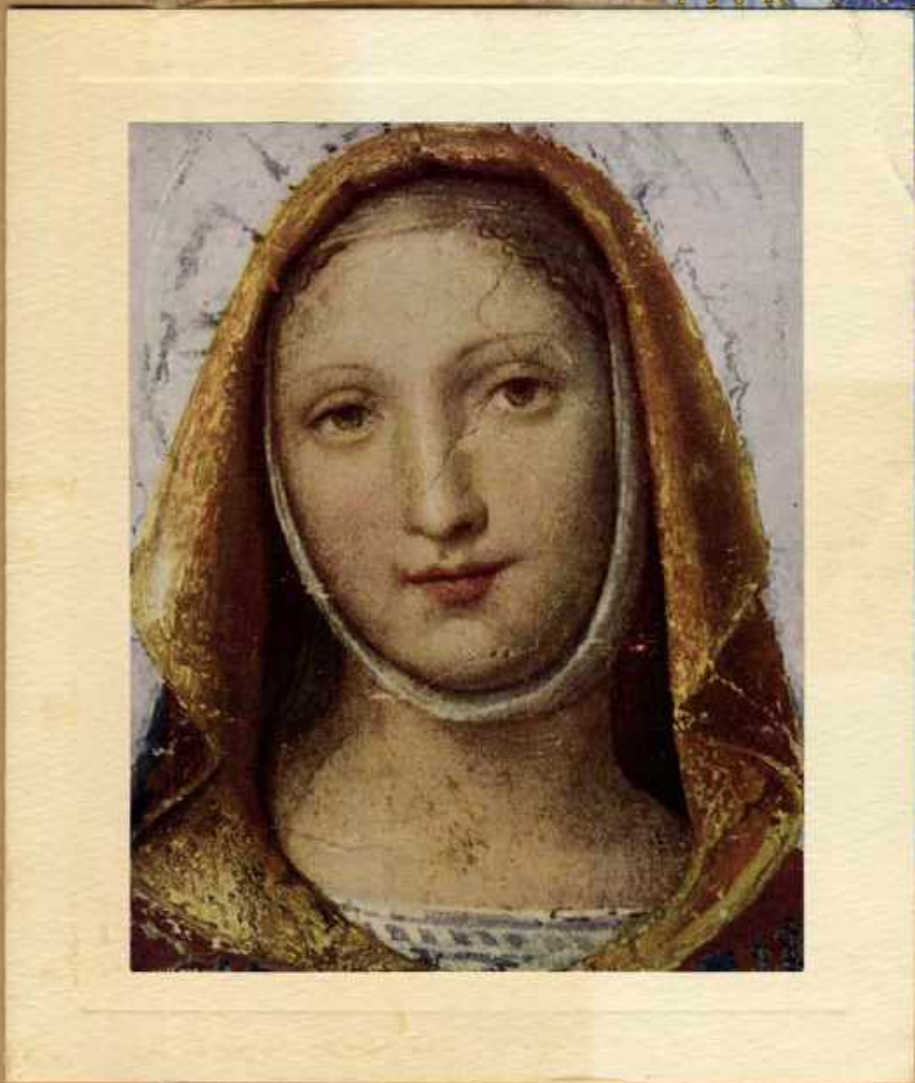

When first auditioning singers for the group in 1961, Sparks informed each that the singing group was only temporary and would be disbanded following a one-shot record date, but he reversed his decision when sales indicated that the group was a success.

Moscow has permitted the State Radio to play the Minstrels' albums, but the Russians point out that the American folk songs are the authentic style of America's 19th century frontier entertainers—and that was B.C. (Before Capitalists).

The New Christy Minstrels, popular folksinging group, performs at 8 p.m. Dec. 2 in Lantz Gym. The concert on the first day of classes of winter quarter is sponsored by the Student Senate. Tickets are now on sale at the University Union Desk, $1.50 for students and $1.75 for general admission. The Minstrels include seven men and two girls and were organized in 1961.

Smothers Bros. Concert Slated Here March 10

The Smothers Brothers, a comedy-folk duo, will perform at 8 p.m. March 10 in Lantz Gymnasium.

This, the last Student Senate concert for the year, ends a season which featured Peter Nero, Julie London and the New Christy Minstrels.

Bob Luther, Senate president, said that students will be admitted for $1.50 with their ID cards. The general admission price for the public is $2 and if needed, standing room only tickets will be sold for $1.

The brothers, Tom and Dick, with the sense of humor they inherited from their father, have made a name for themselves in humor and folk-singing.

Their popularity sky-rocketed after they had been discovered by Mercury Records at a San Francisco bistro, the "Purple Onion."

Since then, they have made four appearances on the Jack Paar "Tonight" show and numerous other television and concert appearances.

Born in New York, where their father was stationed as an Army officer, the brothers spent their early childhood in Manila. They got their first job as professionals singing and playing at a college hangout in San Jose, Calif., known as the "Kerosene Club."

Tom and Dick Smothers, better known as the Smothers Brothers, will appear in Lantz Gymnasium at 8 p.m. March 10. Price for tickets is $1.50 for students and $2 for general admission.

Winter Festival Set to Hold

The Winter Festival will be held this weekend if the weather stays cold enough, said Carol Todd, co-chairman of the Winter Festival committee.

A highlight of the Festival will be the crowning of a winter king and queen at a dance at Thomas Hall Saturday at 9 p.m.

Contestants are Dan Barlow, Mt. Prospect, from Douglas Hall; Diana Walker, Danville, from Berton Hall; Linda Ripley, Danville, from Weller Hall; Solana, Evanston, representing Ford Hall; David Orr, Thomas Hall's candidate; Kumiko Nakamura, Jap McKinney Hall; Pat W. Mt. Vernon, representing Lincoln Hall. Lincoln Hall has chosen a candidate, said Maryana, chairman of the king and queen committee.

Besides a dance, there will be a marshmallow roast over a bonfire tonight, snow sculpture contests, a tug of war, skateless skating and broom sled races.

Smothers Brothers Concert Set Here; Tickets On Sale In Union This Week

Smothers is their name and they really are brothers and tickets go on sale this week at the University Union desk for their March 10 concert, $2.00 for general admission and $1.50 for students.

"And if we had had another brother his name would probably have been Harry. Our father had that kind of sense of humor," said Tom and Dick in a nightclub act early in their career.

With the sense of humor inherited from their father, the Smothers Brothers have made a name for themselves in humor and folk-singing. Their popularity sky-rocketed after they had been discovered by Mercury Records at a San Francisco bistro, the "Purple Onion."

After four appearances on the Jack Paar "Tonight" show, Paar told the brothers, "I don't know what it is that you fellows have—but whatever it is, no one is ever going to steal it from you." And that best describes their humor which lies as much in the delivery as in the content.

The Smothers Brothers concert March 10 will be the Student Senate spring quarter concert.

Tom Smothers, the bewildered, talkative brother and guitarist, is 25 years old and one year older than Dick, who plays bass and patiently tries to get his fumbling brother back on the intellectual beam.

Born in New York, where their father was stationed as an Army career officer, the boys spent their early childhood in Manila. They got their first job as professionals singing and playing at a college hangout in San Jose, Calif., known as the "Kerosene Club."

When an act scheduled to open at the "Purple Onion" didn't make it, the Smothers brothers were signed for a two-week run . . . which extended to a 36-week run, and they were on their way.

Their humor is such that one is never quite sure whether they are joking. As Tom explained, "The first time we worked in San Francisco people came up to me after the show and said, 'For the first 10 minutes you were up there I was terribly embarrassed for you.'"

FALL QUARTER

Fall Quarter, 1965, brought the old and the new to C. & U. and Pemberton Hall.

Pem Hall greeted the girls with the theme "Gay Parée". The dorm was nicely decorated. As the girls entered, they were given a flower with their name on it to help the old and new to get acquainted. Then they signed in at a table with a checkered cloth under the canopy of Gay Parée.

Judy Schrader, Art Chairman, gives the girls the flowers.

FALL GENERAL

Meanwhile, two freshmen sign in with the help of Linda Boliard (Treasurer) on the left and Jean Serafini, (head of Standards) on the right.

From this point, the girls went to their rooms where they met their roommate(s) and the Resident Assistant. In the evening it was time to learn about the dorm regulations. To help with this and also to welcome the girls, the dorm officers provided entertainment, advice, and lots of corn.

At hours all the girls joined in the fun of the first dorm party where the officers greeted the girls with a little can-can dance and the Resident Assistants and Graduate Assistant, Nancy Holliday, greeted them with a skit using the theme of the Mickey Mouse Club. No pictures were taken at this because I wanted to live and I didn't want the camera smashed. The girls then had a chance to drink from the glasses which the dorm gave them and they also joined in the singing of some favorite E. I. U. songs

Candidate Photos Fail To Arrive

Seven women are vying for the title of 1965 Homecoming Queen. The candidates are: Sandy Chaapel, Kappa Delta; Nancy Wells, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Karen Kipp, Delta Zeta; Janet Black, Sigma Kappa; Diana Walker, Thomas Hall; Flora Weddle, Association of International Students; and Diane Tegtmeyer, Alpha Gamma Delta.

Five women are vying for the title of Freshman Attendant. They are: Edie Cooling, McKinney Hall; Janean Sentenne, Andrews Hall; Joyce Johnson, Ford Hall; Mary Toler, Pemberton Hall; and Clare Conlon, Weller Hall.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the News was not able to print the pictures of the 12 candidates. The pictures did not all reach our office to meet our usual deadline and in trying to be fair to all the candidates the News waited for the pictures to be turned in.

Because of our decision to wait, the pictures did not arrive at the engravers on time, and even though arrangements were made to pick the engravings up in Effingham, the efforts were to no avail as the company did not receive the pictures until too late to use them in this edition.

Pem showed up very well in the Homecoming with three girls in the competition for queen - Nancy Wells, Diana Walker, and Diane Tegtmeyer. A former Pemite, Sandy Chaapel, was also running.

were arranged in the shape of a bell and they sang some songs to show our support. Freshmen are, by tradition, to participate in this skit. All others willing to help are welcomed.

The skit was very good and Mary also did a very good job. It all represented a lot of hard work and fun.

The Queen of Homecoming was Nancy Wells, also of Perm. Two Permites Diana Walker and Diane Tegetmeyer were also on the Court. That evening after it was announced that Nancy was Queen, the Sig Taus serenaded to Nancy and presented her with roses. This all happened after hours with the Perm Hall girls watching. It was exciting to have so many girls on the Court from Perm Hall.

Pem as a dorm also gained honors during this Homecoming by winning First Place in the House Dec contest for the dormitory division. The theme was "Leathernecks You're in Panther Country."

PIKE Homecoming Float

Burns In Parade TEKE's, Sig Kap's, Thomas Sweep Float Competition

Bitter cold, dark skies, a wicked wind and a heartbreaking fire combined to cast a shadow of gloom over Eastern's fifty-first Homecoming.

Fans shivered in the face of a chilling 22 mile-per-hour wind that swept over Lincoln Field out of the northwest as they watched the Panthers go down to defeat before Western Illinois, 28 to 8.

The members of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity held an impromptu bon fire in the midst of Saturday morning's parade. Their float ignited just as it turned the corner at Lincoln and Seventh Streets. It never got on to the actual parade route.

Apparently the fire was caused when hot gasses from the exhaust of the diesel tractor pulling it came into contact with the float.

TAU KAPPA Epsilon captured first place in the fraternity division with its green army tank commanded by a Panther and escorted by a squad of squirt-gun toting commandoes. Their "Put a Panther In Your Tank" entry marked the eleventh time in the last 12 years that the TEKE's have either won or tied for first place.

Sigma Kappa's Jolly Green Giant boasting "We'll Can Them" captured the honors in the sorority division. Thomas Hall won the dormitory division with an army tank that promised "More Leathernecks per Tank."

Keeping with the Homecoming theme, "The Hysterical World of Advertising," The Association for Childhood Education won first place with their "Pepsi for Those Who Think Young, Education for Those Who Think," float in the departmental club, civic organization, rooming house, independent division.

HERNANDOES Hide-A-Way was awarded the honors in the comedy division for its "Clean them, Scrub Them, Sink Them," shenanigans.

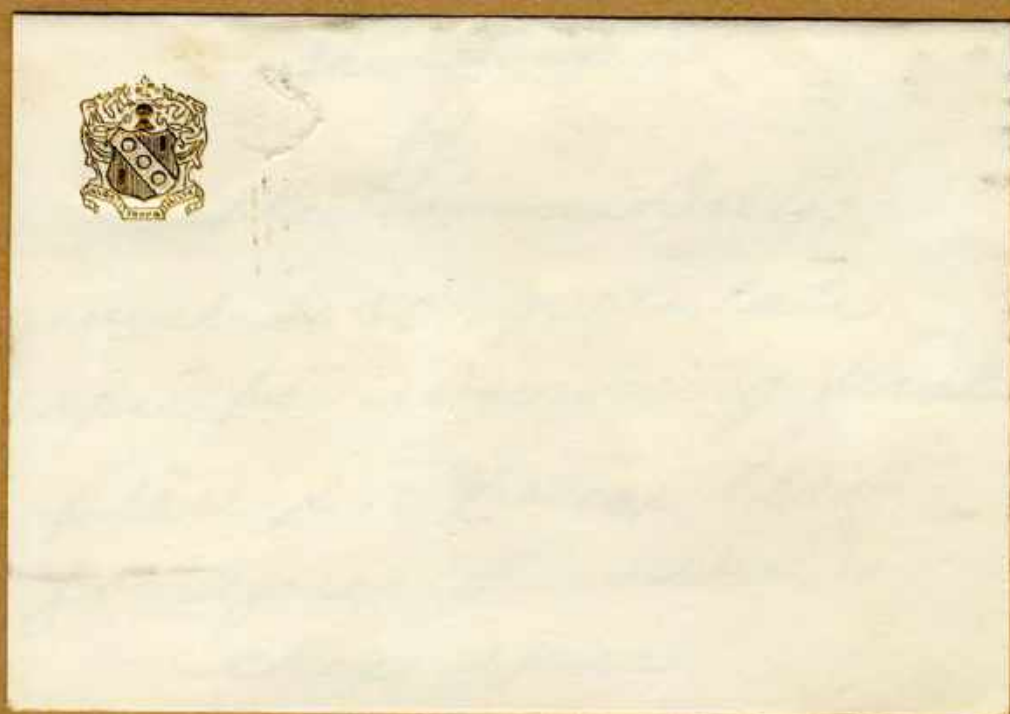

Runners-up in the order they finished were Sigma Pi and Phi Sigma Epsilon in the fraternity division; Delta Zeta and Alpha Gamma Delta in the sorority division; Delta Sigma Pi and the Newman Club in the independent division.

"Eastern's Stronger than Western" captured first place for Sigma Pi in the fraternity division of the house decoration competition. Kappa Delta's "Tom Sweet and His Electric Milky Way Machine" won the sorority division.

"LEATHERNECKS Your In Panther Country" captured the title in the dormitory division for Pemberton Hall. Douglas Division was first and Koed Korner second in the independent division.

Other runners-up in the order they finished were Sigma Tau Gamma and Phi Sigma Epsilon, fraternities; Sigma Kappa and Sigma Sigma Sigma, sororities; Thomas Hall and Lincoln Hall, dormitories.

The winning idea consisted of a panther dressed as a cowboy. The panther had downed the Northern football player. In the back was the slogan "Leathernecks You're in Panther Country." The setting was a Western atmosphere. It was taken from the Marlboro commercial. This also represented a lot of hard work.

Tradition, History Fill Homecoming

By Janet Gerlach

As the floats slowly parade by, each of us will take note of Eastern's 1965 Homecoming, but how many of us will think of the history and tradition behind it all?

Homecoming, now a fall tradition at Eastern, began on Saturday, Nov. 6, 1915. The idea was borrowed from the University of Illinois which established Homecoming as a feature of college life in 1912. Eastern was among the first to adopt it.

A COMMITTEE of students and teachers assisted by officers of the alumni association arranged the first Homecoming. By 1915 a total of 551 students had graduated and approximately 200 returned for Homecoming.

The parade from Charleston's town square to the football field was as it is today, but its pageantry was considerably less than that of today's. It consisted of the band, two decorated autos filled with clowns and nine "butterfly girls."

Even the citizens of Charleston participated by decking the parade route with blue and gray bunting.

Students entertained at the halftime of the first Homecoming game in which Eastern dumped Shurtleff College by a score of 52 to 6. Afterward, punch was served at a reception in Pemberton Hall and a dance in the gym followed later that evening.

IN 1916, the parade was longer, the house decorations were more extensive and Homecoming was established as an annual event. Another football victory was posted as Eastern beat Southern Illinois 19 to 7.

A circus was the big Homecoming event in 1917, with the proceeds going to the athletic association. The fall festivities were passed by in 1918 due to a combination of war and influenza.

By 1919, however, the event was as strong as ever and its routine became fairly well established. First a chapel service was given, then a parade, followed by the football game. After the game, up until 1927, there was a banquet and then a dance which finished off the evening.

The next major innovation occurred in 1928 when the Homecoming play, Shaw's "You Never Can Tell," was presented.

THEN, IN 1930, Homecoming became a two-day affair and Miss Ernestine Taylor was crowned as Eastern's first "Homecoming Queen." Other events which were added included a bonfire the night before the game, a tug-of-war across the lake and a midnight show at the local theatre.

Chapel services were discontinued in 1934. A basketball game was substituted for the traditional football game in 1943 because of the small enrollment; only for a year, however, as World War II had drastically reduced Eastern's student body.

"GOLDEN JUBILEE" was the name of 1948's Homecoming which celebrated Eastern's fiftieth year of existence.

Historical Building On Campus

First Woman's Dormitory On Any State Campus

By Astaire Pappas

Pem Hall, while not the oldest building on Eastern's campus, is probably, by far, the most historical. Not only was it the first woman's dormitory in Eastern's history, but it was also the first woman's dormitory on any state school's campus.

Livingston C. Lord, president of Eastern from 1899 to 1933, started the fight for the acquisition of funds for the proposed dorm in 1901. Lord went before the Appropriations Committee of the state legislature asking for $60,000 for the building of a woman's dormitory. He was told he had made a fairly good joke and was denied the money.

SENATOR Stanton C. Pemberton of Oakland, however, liked Lord's idea and backed him up in the legislature.

By 1903 nothing further had developed from Lord's plea. The president was not defeated, however, and went one step further and ask for money for a school gymnasium as well as a woman's dormitory.

In 1903 Lord again went before the Appropriations Committee and put forth his idea. He was persuaded, for the time being, to give up the idea of a dorm and concentrate heavily on acquiring a gymnasium.

When the Eastern Illinois State Normal School first opened its doors to students on Sept. 12, 1899, the faculty consisted of 18 persons, including Mr. Lord, the president, who was listed as a teacher of psychology and school management.

In May 1903, a $25,000 bill for a gymnasium was passed by the legislature. It was, however, vetoed by Governor Richard Yates and Eastern got neither its gym nor its dormitory.

LORD WOULD not give up, and with constant appearances in Springfield and with influential backing from Pemberton,

Livingston C. Lord

Eastern finally acquired both a gym and dormitory. In 1907 the Appropriations Committee passed a bill for $100,000 to be given Eastern.

The original appropriations bill was enough to complete the building, but an additional $3,000 was added in 1909 to finish 10 rooms in the basement and attic.

When speaking of history, Pem is certainly not a dorm to be left out!

The formal opening of Pemberton Hall took place Jan. 4, 1909. The hall housed 100 girls with lodgings and 25 students with table board only.

The original cost for living in Pem hall was $4 a week including laundry privileges. The first dorm director, then called the "Head" was Miss Estelle Gross.

The first rules of Pem Hall were announced by Miss Mary E. Hawkins, dorm director from 1910-1917. In essence the girls were not allowed out of the dorm after 7:30 p.m. at which time they were obligated to be in their rooms to study until 10 p.m.

From 10 to 10:30 p.m. the girls were allowed to participate in "riot" hours and at 10:30 p.m. lights were out and all was quiet.

IF THESE rules seem a little harsh and ridiculous, they also seemed that way to the original residents of Pem Hall.

In 1917, the women of Pem Hall were allowed self-government and the rules took on a more liberal note. But in 1919 self-government was abandoned and the girls were again in bed by 10:30 p.m.

Not until 1930 with the coming of Miss Carol L. Besteland as head director of Pem Hall did the girls again enjoy the freedom of self-government.

TODAY, PEM Hall normally houses 201 women, and a $4 a week rent is a thing of the past. Besides serving as a woman's dormitory, the building houses the offices of the News, and other publications, and the gymnasium or "crackerbox" is still used by the gymnastics team.

Bloodmobile Nets 97 Quarts At EIU

A total of 97 quarts of blood were donated by Eastern students when the American Red Cross Bloodmobile made its semi-annual visit on Oct. 12 and 13.

Every time the bloodmobile is on campus, a contest is run to encourage blood donation. The plaque (one awarded in each division) is kept by the winner until the next visit of the bloodmobile. It then moves on to the new winner.

There were winners in three categories in this fall's drive. Kappa Delta won the sorority division for the third time. Delta Sigma Phi won the fraternity division receiving the plaque from Phi Sigma Epsilon, last spring's winner. Douglas Hall was replaced by Pemberton Hall in the dormitory division.

EIU Women Write Article

In the October 1965 issue of the journal of Home Economics was an article written by Janice Berg, Sandy Widicus, Charla Bartscht, Julia Walsh, and Carolyn Kenneaster, students at Eastern.

The students distributed questionnaires to uncover information on the career perception of women college students at Eastern. With the help of their advisor, Mary Ruth Swope, they analyzed the 618 usable questionnaires returned.

The data answered the following questions:

1. Do college women today perceive their future role as a dual one—that of homemaker and career women?

2. How competent do college women feel in tasks related to homemaking?

3. Would they like to increase their competency while in college by taking courses in home economics?

4. What do they know and think about home economics curricula and careers?

The findings were:

1. 92 per cent agreed they should combine a career with homemaking, but 33 per cent felt they could make their best contribution by being full-time wives and mothers.

Only 18.8 per cent of the students felt they should prepare for full-time employment. However, 62 per cent of the high school counselors who were asked the same type of question felt that more women should prepare for a career.

2. Less than half of the respondents to the questionnaire felt "highly competent" in any of the 18 tasks related to homemaking. Only 43 per cent felt competent in "family finance", but 94 per cent felt competent in "family relationships".

Two goals for the home economics staff are to increase course enrollments in the areas where students expressed a felt need and to help women see their need for other courses, such as nutrition and consumer economics.

To Present Jazz Concert Tonight

'Old Favorites' Among Songs On Program

Louis Armstrong

Louis Armstrong and his All-Stars will present a concert at 8 p.m. today in Lantz Gym, the first of two Student Senate sponsored concerts this quarter. Jan. 31, Johnny Mathis will make an appearance in Lantz.

"SATCHMO'S" program will include such favorites as "Hello Dolly," "High Society," "St. Louis Blues," "Sleepy Time Down South," "A Kiss To Build A Dream On," "Mack The Knife," "Saints Go Marching In" and "Muskrat Ramble."

Armstrong, described as "the indestructible trumpet player," has put out more than 1,000 numbers on wax since 1923, including "Shine," "Chinatown," "Tiger Rag," "Ain't That Misbehavin'" and "You Rascal, You."

His music has been described as "running from echoes of New Orleans street parades to bebop syllable straight out of a School of Music stream-of-consciousness nightmare."

"Wrapped up in his inimitable in his sandpaper voice, a point of view attitude that this was much the poorer with."

A REVIEWER once said that "Louis is real and he is America, and to a great part of the world, he represents the best of America."

Tickets have been on sale in the University Union this week and will be available at the box office tonight for $1.50 each. All tickets are unreserved.

Winter Quarter means Christmas is just around the corner. This year the Christmas Dance was held December 11, 1965 at the Lab School Gym. Pemberton Hall, Ford Hall, McKinney Hall, and Weller Hall worked together to hold RED VELVET RADIANCE.

Each dorm elected 3 or 4 girls to be Chris Misses. From each dorm there was also elected a Miss Chris Miss. Pem's Miss Chris Miss is Donna Sue Allen. These girls are elected on the basis of their participation in dorm activities.

Johnny Mathis

Johnny Mathis Concert Set For 8 P.M. Monday

Assurance that the Johnny Mathis concert will be well attended was evident this week when the performance was "sold out" in less than four hours Monday morning.

The Student Senate sponsored concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in Lantz Gym and all seats are reserved.

MATHIS, a former athlete at San Francisco State College, has received 18 gold record albums, a traditional music industry commemoration for sales passing the million mark. He is also a regular night club and concert performer and appears often on television musical variety shows.

During his collegiate athletic career, he was a high jumper, clearing the 6-foot, 5½-inch mark to set a sports record that has only been matched five times in the history of the Olympic Games.

He was a freshman at the college at the time of the event and was considered one of the most outstanding all-around athletes ever to come out of the San Francisco school system.

OVER THE past few years, Mathis has recorded some 30 albums, each of which has sold over 500,000 copies and he is the only singer to ever have four albums listed simultaneously as best-sellers on the national music charts.

His biggest weakness is collecting sweaters from all over the world. The only area of his life in which he's managed to say "no" and mean it, is when it comes to giving up his bachelorhood.

He claims he's having too much fun right now to settle down with any particular girl.

Hi!

Eastern Freshman Named Miss Kaskaskia Valley

By Judy Bloomquist

Excitement ran high in Vandalia recently when Connie Crawford, freshman from Effingham, was crowned Miss Kaskaskia Valley in a preliminary Miss America contest.

In her role as Miss Kaskaskia Valley, Miss Crawford will appear in the Miss Illinois contest this summer in Quincy. The present Miss Illinois, Kathy Oros, is a junior here.

"I can't believe it; I must be dreaming," she cried as friends greeted her with a party in Pemberton Hall when she returned to school.

MISS CRAWFORD, sponsored by the Effingham Junior Chamber of Commerce, competed in bathing suit competition, evening gown competition, and talent.

For her talent requirement in the contest she performed a jazz baton dance routine.

"I didn't have time to become nervous before I danced and twirled. I had five minutes to change from a long formal into a twirling costume and warm up before I went on stage," she said. "Once I was there, I decided to just do my best and leave the rest to the judges," she added.

NEEDLESS to say, Miss Crawford is still quite elated by this honor. "I've been going through Alpha Gam initiation week, and I haven't been able to talk to any of the guys who congratulate me until after 5 p.m. It sure is hard to do!" she exclaimed.

"I'm already getting nervous about the Miss Illinois pageant," said Miss Crawford, "but I plan to start working on my talent routine now so that it will be as perfect as it can be by then."

Miss Crawford gets practice twirling as a member of the Eastern twirlers. She teaches the twirlers many of her routines.

Miss Crawford is a speech ma...jor here. She is also a member of the debate team.

Among the prizes Miss Crawford won are her official Miss America pageant trophy, her crown, two dozen roses, other flowers, jewelry, clothes, perfume, oil portraits, luggage, a photograph album covering the contest from the beginning rehearsal to the coronation, and money.

The Student Senate Thursday tabled a motion asking that "the senate officer involved in the theft of the newspapers resign."

After some discussion the motion was tabled until the committee to investigate the significance of the theft, reports back to the senate.

THE FOLLOWING action was also taken:

1. John Peck, sophomore from Charleston, and Cheryl Mullen, junior from Paris, were nominated for the chairmanship of the Student Advisory Committee. Voting was delayed so that the senate could meet the candidates.

2. Nominations for Fine Arts Week Chairman were also delayed a week until Pat Horschburgh, the present chairman, could recommend a successor.

3. CHARLA BARTSCHT, senior from Shelbyville, was appointed Chairman of Parents' Weekend Committee.

History Club Elects Yow Next President

Tim Yow, Greenup sophomore, has been elected president of the History Club.

Eastern To Send 3 To Talent Show

Three members of the Iota Omicron chapter of Phi Beta Lambda, national professional fraternity in business and business education, will compete in a talent show at the fraternity's state convention this weekend in Springfield.

Winners in the Eastern Phi Beta Lambda talent show, Carma Braudemeir, New Douglas junior, who came in first with a vocal selection entitled "Misty;" Carol Brown, Belleville freshman, who was second; and Phyllis Hower-ton, Danville junior, third; will participate in the statewide competition.

Trophies were awarded to the three winners by Sandalyn Jackson, Hidalgo junior, who was master of ceremonies at the talent show.

THE ALPHA GAMS have had quite a bit of excitement around their house this past week. First news came that they won the Panhellenic Scholarship Plaque for the fourth year in a row. Then came the news that Connie Crawford, freshman from Effingham, had been crowned Miss Kaskaskia Valley and will be advancing to the Miss Illinois contest this summer. Good luck, Connie.

Victim Of 'Feverus Springus' Plans Future As Philippine College Head

By Judy Kallal
(Second In A Series)

The sign on the door warned, "Victim of Feverus Springus." Inside, little feminine knickknacks made an interesting contrast alongside a row of thick texts lined on the dresser.

FROM THE west window of the pretty single room, a flutter of snow flakes was seen idly drifting down over the parking lot. It was the first day of spring.

The girl seated on the bed didn't mind the weather. "I always wish for snow," Wilhelmina Fernandez explained excitedly, "... even in spring."

Wilhelmina, a foreign student from the Philippines, had no occasion to see snow before her arrival in the United States last November.

UNLIKE MOST foreign students who have to adjust to a totally different environment, Wilhelmina finds the U.S. to be "almost like my country."

Since English is the language used in instruction in Philippine schools, Wilhelmina has little trouble with communication here.

American clothes, government and food are also familiar to her. "Coke," her favorite drink, is one that she enjoyed first in the Philippines.

SOCIAL LIFE and dating customs of the U.S. are a little unusual to the attractive foreign student. In the Philippines, women who date frequently are not considered to be good, moral women.

Those who don't go out often with men or those who never have dated are the women who get the proposals of marriage according to Wilhelmina. Philippine parents are quite restrictive, also, she adds.

DOING WORK as a graduate student, Wilhelmina has a heavy schedule filled with evening classes and sessions at the reserve library. Education and administration, her areas of concentration, prepare her for a very special academic position in the Philippines.

For 15 years, Wilhelmina's family has provided the administration for East Philippines Colleges, a private school with an enrollment of 2,500. Colleges provide education to all ages at all levels of instruction from elementary through college.

Presently Wilhelmina's mother is President of East Philippines College, her father, supervisor, and her uncle chairman of the board of directors.

When her mother retires, Wilhelmina will continue the family corporation and assume the position of president.

AFTER COMPLETING requirements for a master's degree at Eastern, Wilhelmina will seek her doctorate at a large university in the U.S. and then return to the Philippines to begin her

"Eastern is so friendly," Wilhelmina says of the people she meets and life she lives here. "The girls (in Pem) are so nice."

"You meet them in the hall and they smile and smile and always say hello."

AT PEM HALL Wilhelmina, better known as "Willy," has started a tradition in her door decorating schemes. Whimsical little signs with delicate artwork grace her door constantly.

A dainty, blossomed tree is in the background of her most recent sign which wishes the girls a "Happy Easter." A brown-eyed bunny stares mischievously from his bed of flowers in the corner. Like the girls, he smiles at Wilhelmina. He too appears to be an excited victim of feverus springus.

Faculty Senate Chooses Eight For Councils

Eight students have been selected by the Faculty Senate to serve on two of the "consultative councils" being established by President Quincy Doudna.

Four juniors were chosen to serve on the council on instruction: Fred Moore, Mattoon; Kathy Skinn, Hillsboro; Clare Fidler, Decatur; and Charles Dundy, Carmi.

Three seniors selected for the council on administration are Ann Bletsch, Highland Park; Charles Linderman, Springfield; Frank Mazza, Chicago Heights. Mike Riegel, Clinton sophomore, was also chosen to serve on this council.

The council on student life is expected to be set up at the beginning of the fall quarter, at which time it will replace the present Student Life Committee.

Let 'Tiny Alice' Happen To You

THE MEMBERS of the household, lawyer (Arnold), compassionate but impatient butler (Rick Bayles), and Miss Alice (Carol Butler), the mother and seducer figure of Julian, worship another Alice who we are told exists inside a scale model of Miss Alice's mansion.

Julian knows nothing of this however, and as he falls in love with Miss Alice, he is unaware that the woman he finally marries is merely acting in behalf of the tiny Alice.

Ali Khan AIS President

Rashid Ali Khan, a junior from Karachi, Pakistan, was elected president of the Association of International Students at their April 18 meeting.

'Variety Show' For Homecoming

By Bill Kaczor

Entertainment for the Oct. 7-8 Homecoming will consist of a "little variety show," according to Jeff Scott, alumni and publicity chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Selection of the Friday night entertainers has been narrowed down to three combinations: 1. Leslie Gore, Dick Gregory and Dave Brubeck; 2. the Ramsey Lewis Trio, Glenn Yarborough and Nina Simone; 3. a split booking combination of the Herby Mann Octet, Jerry Vale, and the Roof Top Singers; or Peter Nero, Josh White and the Brothers Four.

CHOICES FOR dance bands, which are also being considered for contract are Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller and Ralph Martini.

Scott explained that the Saturday night concert, which usually has preceded the dance and coronation has been eliminated to allow the public and students more adequate time to prepare for the evening activities.

"Thus," he commented, "we are giving a much larger and better concert on Friday night."

SCOTT SAID that it is not yet known whether or not the facilities in the new Lantz Physical Education and Recreation Building will be available for the Friday concert. "However," he asserted, "the committee will be prepared if it is. We sure hope so."

A tentative schedule of Homecoming events has been determined. It calls for the following activities: Thursday afternoon—pep rally; Thursday night—snake dance; Friday afternoon—frosh-soph games; Friday night—concert; Saturday morning—parade; Saturday afternoon—coffee hours, alumni football luncheon and Homecoming football game with Illinois State University; Saturday night—coronation and dance.

Robert Maulding, Pana senior, is the Homecoming committee's chairman. The co-chairmen are Kathy Fling, Belton, Mo. sophomore; Ken Wood, Champaign junior; and Jack Ehler, Springfield junior.

WORDS FROM MARTHA

Dear Bernites,

It has been wonderful at Pom this year. You are a great group with which to work. Whenever help was needed, someone was at the scene.

Thanks ever so much for the surprise, and it do mean surprise! How everyone except me knew about it, it'll never know. I enjoyed every second of the skit. The roses are beautiful, and the lingerie fits perfectly. Believe me, my heart was in my throat.

Thanks for being so thoughtful. I appreciated everything, even the free dip in the tub.

Keep working at Pom to make your dorm the best on campus. It is worth every minute of it. Good luck.

Sincerely,

Martha

May 6, 1968

Miss Stuebe and
The Women of Pemberton Hall,

Thank you so much for the beautiful pen and pencil set. I certainly will use it a lot.

Having been President of Pemberton Hall this year has been quite an honor and privilege. My congratulations and best wishes go to all of you Permites who will be carrying on our name next year. After all, we do have the best dorm on campus.

Pem has been a very important part of my college life and holds a very special place in my heart. Perhaps this feeling grows stronger because graduation nears and
